ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—[A. P. Correspondence. Wired from Chicago. Dec. 8.] Vladmir Bogoras, leader of the Siberian department of the Jesup North Pacific expedition, who returned to St. Petersburg about ten days ago. after nearly a year and a half of exploration in North Siberia, was invited to lecture before the Imperial Geographical Society in this city last night. A large company assembled to hear him, but word came at the last moment that he had been expelled from the city by the police. The cause of this action was said to be an article published by Bogorax in a local newspaper.

valled in Kamschatka, since the present tribes are ignorant of pottery.

The expedition left flan Prancisco March 79, 1806, for Vladivostek to gather material about the origin of the American races and their affinities with Asiatic tribes. In June, 1900, Bogoras went to the Anodyr country, and, July 24, Jackelson and his companion, Axeirad of Zurich, went to Giliga. Bogoras made a study of the Kamschatkans and Kariaka, and then proceeded northward nearly to Bering Straits. He sledged about 10,000 versts. His entire collection embraced 12,000 objects. A comparative grammar of the native languages shows them to belong to the Esquimaux group.

Another member of the expedition, Norman Buxton, who directed the soliogical and botanical work, shipped sixty-five tons of collections to New York by sea. Buxton left Vladivostok October 24, and reached Moscow after twenty-one days. On the way over, Euxton fell in with some of the American miners who have been engaged in Mongolia by the Russo-Chinese Bank. They have been released for the winter, as necessary machinery must be brought into the country before the mining work can proceed.

Committee to Carry the Same to the President.

Urgent Petition That Treaty of Washington Be Enforced Against British.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.;

C HICAGO, Dec. 8.—A programme of protest against British methods in the South African war was carried out before an immense audience in the Auditorium Theater here tonight. Following an eloquent address by W. Bourke Cockran, and carnest speeches by others, resolutions for the appointment of a committee to bring the sentiments of the meeting before the President were adopted. Although an admission was charged, the funds being intended to aid the Boers, and especially their women and children, standing room was at a premium, and many were unable to gain admittance.

admain of English commerce, not in extending the domain of the English crown.

"Disaster to the English people lies not in the defeat of this enterprise," said the speaker, "but in its success. If the South African republics were subdued and the last Boer disarmed, the men and women now in captivity must be returned to the soil To maintain authority over these people, resentful, dissatisfied, accustomed to bearing arms, would require the maintenance of a huge army, and such an army could not be maintained without establishing compulsory military service in Great Britain. The establishment of compulsory military service in England would be the ruin of the British Constitution.

"Providence has so ordered events that the President of the United States can quell this bitter war. It is an that the President of the United States can quell this bitter war. It is an extraordinary opportunity offered to an extraordinary man. It would not be necessary to draw the sword, to make any threat of armed intervention, or to take an unfriendly attitude. One word spoken to the English Ambassador, or in the hearing of the English nation, would restore peace, establish justice, secure liberty to these burghers, promote enormously the friendly relation between the people. Will that word be spoken? Never in history have such momentous results hung on the lips of a human being. Will Theodore Roosevelt improve this opportunity for himself, his country and the whole human race?"

A letter from Carl Schurz was read, in which he said: "I am one of those who heartily rejoice at the subsidence in this country of the old and more who hearthy rejoice at the subsidence in this country of the old and more or less unreasoning prejudice against England. I witness with sincere satisfaction the disappearance from our popular oratory of the cheap trick of 'twisting the British lion's tail,' and I hail with joy the growth of a real friendship between the two nations. But Englishmen should not indulge in any delusions about this: Deep in their hearts the great masses of the American people cherish a profound sympathy for the Boers in their struggles and sufferings. What they condemned was done by the British in South Africa. And if there is anything apparent to revive the old aritish ritish feeling in this republic, it is the terrible spectacle presented by the Boer war."

The following resolutions were adopted:

The following resolutions were adopted:

"Resolved, that we, as American citizens, believe that the wanton destruction of property of non-combatants by English military authorisation in South Africa (without precedent in modern times save by English officers in the war of the American Revolution) is a source of needless suffering to the people of the South African republica, and without advantage to the operations of the English army, and the slaughter of the helpless and innocent caused by English prison pens are a causeless outrage on the humanity of the civilised world which amply justi-fy concentrated remonstrance by occentrated remonstrance. American and European States, believing that the rights and obttoms of common humanity are determined by geographical or politimitations, and regarding the troof 1871 as made to be observed England as well as by America, most sciennly remonstrate and most scienniy remonstrate and test against the acts of the En

England as well as by America, do most solemnly remonstrate and protest against the acts of the English government.

"Resolved, that we, and each of us, do hereby pledge curselves to use our utmost powers to make this our purpose, known to our several representatives in the American Congress, and to cause a copy of these resolutions to be brought to the attention of the President of the United States, withour most respectful, but urgent petition that the Treaty of Washington. of May $. 1871, be strictly enforced, and that the use of American ports and waters be henceforth denied to vessels operated under British charter for the augmentation of supplies of war, and that the President of the United States will employ every possible means to bring to an end the horrors of concentration camps, and a war which, by its unexampled ferocity and enormous cost of life and treasure, has autounded the civilised world.

"Resolved, that the chairman be authorised to appoint a committee of citizens of Chicago to call the attention of the President to these resolutions and the sentiments of the citizens of Chicago, and that such committee shall have power to add to its numbers citizens of other portions of the United States."

A resolution was also adopted commending Gov. Tates of Illinois for isusing a proclamation calling for assistance for the occupants of concentration camps in South Africa.

The meeting closed with a remarkable demonstration. Following the specchmaking, the great audience roared its approval of the Boer cause, the cheering belgg long-continued, and then contributions were asked for the relief of the stricken women and children in South Africa. Something over $5500 was raised.

Weatmoreland county, Va., Wednesday night last, arrived at home in this city today, and for the first time gave full details of the tragedy that has shaken the East. Marx admits kissing Rose Taylor, the sixteen-year-old girl, over whom the fragedy resulted, but says he did so in a playful mood. In this the girl fully bears him out. He says the girl was only a child to him, and he had forgotten all about the incident until after the tragedy.

Toung Marx gives a graphic description of the attempt of Will Tsylor, John Shiff and Heffin to break into his home where he was alone. He took the three young men, who had always been his friends, but who came to his home masked, for burglars. He says over Minety-nine Millions in Gold and Over Thirty-five Millions in Silver, Besides Two Millions in Minor Joins Minted During the Year—Gold

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P M)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The report of George C. Roberts, Director of the Mint, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901, has been completed. The coinage of the mints during the fiscal year amounted to 176,896,122 pieces, of the value of $152,546,781. Of this, $99,905,715 was in gold, $24,296,850 was in silver dollars, $16,966,648 was in fractional silver, and 22,009,388 in minor coins. There also were coined at the Philadelphia mint 255,000 gold pieces of the value of $345,014 for the government of Costa Rica.

The new mint under construction at Denver has made slow progress during the year, and the supervising architect finds an additional appropriation necessary before the fall contracts can be let. The appropriation for site and building was $50,000 and for equipment $150,000. The new mints at Philadelphia and Denver, together with the old ones at Ban Francisco and New Orleans, will afford ample facilities for this country for many years to come.

Flanges on Beth Sides of the Engines of the Illinois.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. S.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Defects in certain portions of the machinery of the battleship Illinois have been discovered since her arrival in this port, and they may develop into a naval sensation. The arrival here today of James Rowbottom, superintendent of the mechanical department of the Newport News Steamship Company, has let the story out, and those in authority do not deny that Rowbottom has come in response to official summons to examine the that Rowbottom has come in response to official summons to examine the defects and see what can be done. The breaks have occurred in the big cylinder fianges on both sides of the engines. They have been found full of cracks, which, the experts say, are most serious defects, and should not have occurred even after years of service. How far the cracking of the cylinder fianges has extended is not known. One thing seems sure tonight: the battleship must go back to the shipbuilding plant and have certain parts of the machinery made over. The government will not stand for any defects. It also appears certain that the United States Navy Department will appoint a board of three naval engineers to come to New Orleans at once and investigate the whole matter and make an official report.

tions sliver, and $2,000,308 in minor coins. There also were coined at the Philadelphia mint 225,000 gold pieces of the value of $348,014 for the government of Costs Rica.

The coinage of sliver dollars during the year was wholly from the stock of bullon accumulated under the act of July 14, 1850. The amount of this bullion on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year was $1,238,664 standard ounces. The coinage of this bullion has been accelerated to enable the treasury to retire the treasury notes issued in its purchase, and at the same time supply the pressing demand which has existed throughout the year for the small denominations of money required in retail trade.

Coinage operations were conducted during the year in the mints at Philadelphia, San Francisco and New Orleans. The Philadelphia mint is now in its new quarters, and the old site, including the structure, will be offered to alse to the highest bidder December 19, 1901. An upset price of $2,000,000, and the appropriation for equipment $446,000, but a considerable portion of the latter is yet unexpended.

No pains have been spared to provide this mint with the best machinery to be had, and it is believed that in methods and equipment it will be,

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) BUTTE (Mont.) Dec. 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The report in Butte is that the recent great slump in Amaigamated copper stocks was caused chiefy by the fact that the estate of the late Marcus Daly has thrown its holdings on the market, amounting to several million dollars' worth.

In addition to the large amount of Amalgamated stock which came to Marcus Daly at the time he organised the Amalgamated and turned in his Anaconda holdings, Mrs. Daly has been induced by friends to purchase heavily of Amalgamated at the time the other companies were absorbed. The result is that she has sold at a loss of $1,000,000 or more, and that the Daly holdings, including the portion originally owned by the Copper King, has been gradually unloaded, until now little of it is held by some of the Daly representatives.

MACHINE SHOPS IN ALASKA.

PETERSBURG A REPAIR POINT.

TACOMA. Dec. 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first marine ways and machine shops to be built in Alaska are being constructed at Petersburg by the Pacific Packing and Navigation Company, which recently absorbed the Coast salmon canneries.

Machinery and materials are now being purchased and sent north. The company owns seventy-five small craft, including siteam tenders, tags, bargers and scows. Many of these are employed in Alaskan waters, and hereafter they will be repaired at Petersburg, instead of being sent south to San Francisco and Puget Sound.

In past years, much of this repair work has been done by San Francisco shops, causing long delays. It is also intended to erect at Petersburg a box factory for the manufacture of saimon cases.

(AT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS

(Utah) Dec. 2.—The fate of George Hayes and a party of three prospectors who left here to prospect in the Philippines in 1899, has been revealed in a letter just received in the city. The party has been missing since March, 1990, andl every effort to locate the miners had been futile up to this time.

Rev. C. J. Lenhart, formerly a minister at Hawaii, residing at Maniia, was induced by freends of the missing men to take up the searching. Diligent inquiry on his part disclosed the fact that the party, disregarding the warnings of the military not to venture beyond their lines of defense, had gone into mountains of Central Luzon.
Later, the bodies of the four men were literally chopped to pieces by bolomen.
The heads and arms were severed from the bodies and the bodies were otherwise horribty mutilated.

BRIEF COAST DISPATCHES.

Big Water Main Bursts.

OAKLAND, Dec. 8.—The great weight of the Ban Leandro bridge, which commenced to sag today on account of its concrete foundation having collapsed, caused the 36-inch water main of the Contra Costa Water Company to burst tonight. A large force of men was heatily gathered together and sent to the scene to turn off the water in the main and repair the damage. The broken main conducts water from Alvarado to Oakland.

Outbuildings Burned.

SAN JOSE, Dec. 8.—All the outbuildings on the farm of C. C. Ingalis, a few miles southwest of this city, were burned to the ground this afternoon. The buildings included a large barn, tankhouse and windmill and sheds. Two buggies, harness, ten tons of hay and the farm implements were destroyed. The loss is in the neighborhood of $3500, with slight insurance on the barn.

PHOENIX (Aris.) Dec. 8.—The re-habilitation of Fort Whippie, at Prescott, is again being strongly agi-tated, and F. M. Murphy, president of the Santa Fé. Prescott and Phoenix Railroad, is in Washington in the in-terest of the movement.

SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENT WAS MADE DURING THE YEAR.

Wireless Telegraphy Successful-System of Merit and Discipline in the Bureau-Extension of the Forecast Work-Climate and Crop Service.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M. WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The annual report of Prof. Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States Weather Bureau, says that substantial improvements have been made during the past year in the Weather Bureau system of wireless telegraphy. Such progress has been made by the government experimenters that, with no interference by wireless telegraphy. Such progress has been made by the government experimenters that, with no interference by private systems, stations can be successfully operated over at least 150 miles of coast line, and are now in operation along the Virginia and North Carolina coasts, and soon will be instituted between the Farallon Islands and the mainland and Tatoosh Island and the mainland of the Pacific Coast.

The report says: "A system of merit and discipline has been gradually developed in the Weather Bureau, which not only conforms to the letter of the Civil Service law, but carries its spirit to a logical conclusion. The system compels each employe or official to work out his own official salvation. It is fair to all: it enables honest and efficient persons to work themselves upward: it contributes to a high standard of manly character and to efficient persons to work themselves upward: it contributes to a high standard of manly character and to efficient persons to work themselves upward: it contributes to a high standard of manly character and to efficient persons to work themselves upward: it contributes to a high standard of manly character and to efficient persons to work themselves upward of the habits."

An important extension of the forecast work of the bureau way finade during the year, whereby meteorological reports from certain points in the British Isles, the continent of Europe and from the Asores are transmitted to Washington, and with observations from Nassau, Bermuda, and Turks Island, are regularly published on the weather maps, together with forecasts of the wind and the state of the weather for the first three days out of steamers bound eastward.

In a number of instances, when storms of marked strength were passing eastward off the American coast, forecasts of the weather which probably would be experienced by steamers leaving European ports, westbound, were cabled to England. Fog predictions are also issued. Reports from steamers show that these forecasts and other special warnings have been

The climate and crop service of the Weather Bureau has been improved. The cotton-region service has been ex-tended into Okiahoma and the Indian Territory, and arrangements have be made for beginning a similar work California, to be known as the fru and weather service.

CARNEGIE TAKES UP UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

WILL GIVE TEN MILLIONS OF DOL LARS TO EDUCATION.

ent of the Gift to Be Made from the White House, Tomorrow, According to the Chicago Record-Herald-Board to Be Appointed.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)
CHICAGO, Dec. $.-A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Washington says that Andrew Carnegie is to give $16,000,000 to the cause of university extension in the United States. Announcement of this gift to education will be made at the White House Tuesday. Carnegie was here a few days ago, and took luncheon with the President, when details of the plan were fully discussed.
Carnegie has thought best to create a national board to handle this munificent benefaction. President Roosevelt will probably name such a board for Carnegie, or at least set in motion the machinery which shall lead to a national organization. Carnegie is expected here tomorrow or Tuesday, and fuller details of this gigantic enterprise will soon become public.

pected here tomorrow or Tuesday, and fuller details of this gigantic enterprise will soon become public.

Nicholas Murray Butler, who has succeeded Seth Low at the head of Columbia College, has been here for two or three days, a guest of the President at the White House, and he has âided in perfecting the plans. Mr. Butler left for New York at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and before going, refused to give any particulars beyond the information that an announcement would be made Tuesday at the White House. Butler has long been one of the foremost champions of university extension, and it is understood Carnegle has had frequent consultations with him concerning the enterprise.

According to the plans prepared by Carnegie and his advisers, the national organization is to have its headquarters in Washington, but its operations are to extend throughout the United States, the work to be carried on in cooperation with universities everywhere.

in Japan. The arrest was made upon the Great Northern overland train, as it pulle into the Minneapolin Union station at 3 o'clock.

Mayer was accompanied by his wife and two children, and a Japanese servant. Mayer said that he had been in the newspaper business at Yokohama, where he lived for a number of years. The charge against him is that he forged signatures on bonds, but the exact nature of the crime or the amount of money involved is not known. He quitted Yokohama November 19, sailing for Seattle upon the Japanese steamer Shinamo Maru. Ever since then the authorities have been on the lookout for him. In some manner he managed to evade the officers at Seattle.

Mayer is about 28 years of age, and of English descent. When arrested he was en route to London. He says he will fight the proceedings. He did not claim right to the protection of the consul of any foreign mation, and apparently will contest the case as an American citizen.

In a recent issue of Englneering an interesting comparison is made between the growth of the merchant neets of the leading maritime nations of the world. The most remarkable increase in tonnage has occurred in the German fleet, which has nearly doubled during the last ten years. The French fleet has not materially increased, notwithstanding heavy subsidies. The United States fleet has Increased by only about 200,000 tons, and Norway, Russia and Sweden all show small gains. The following table gives the details:

In a computation of the exports of all the principal countries of the world, it is found that the value of all the exports from the various countries in 1898 increased by over $1,140,000,000, by the time they became imports at their destination and, while some part of this increase may be due to profits; insurance, etc., a large proportion of it was due to transpor; t charges.

Lake Shipowners' Day of Reckoning.

Lake Shipowners' Day of Reckoning.

"Almost every year for the past fifteen, since steel ships became a factor in the commerce of the great lakes, the cry has gone up: 'We are building too many vessels. A day of reckoning is coming, and woe be to the vessel owner.' The alarm sounded, when Mr. Rockefeller took a hand in the business a few years ago, had hardly subsided before a great steel corporation acquired 112 of the choicest freighters, and then it was said in louder tones than ever that the days of the so-called individual vessel owners were the largest amount of heating surface of any passenger locomotives in the world, and so far as known represent the least amount of weight per square foot of heating surface. The straight admission port used in connection with the piston valve allows very large and free steam passages and still maintains the clearance volume within the limits of good practice. The exhaust steam passes away through the ports in the outside ends of the valve chamber. Indicator diagrams taken from these engines at high speeds show that they are capable of developing normally more than 1200-horse power, the highest being 1452 taken at sixty-three miles per hour.

It seems fair to assume, other things being equal, that the efficiency of a high-speed passenger engine depends upon the amount of heating surface per unit of weight, and that an engine which weighs the least number of pounds per square foot of heating surface is a much more efficient machine than one of much greater weight and less heating surface, providing the parts are of ample strength for the duty required of them.

The days of "cast-iron" engines are past and the exacting requirements of modern transportation require much greater durability of the working parts than ever before. The proportions and designed every piecerequire to be carefully calculated and studied out in all particulars more than ever before in the history of locomotive building, so that the failures on the road caused by broken parts may be reduced to a minimum. This, together with the necessity for reducing the weight and obtaining the maximum heating surfaces, demands that the work required and designed with that end in view.

A number of interesting statements were made showing the high evaporative efficiency of the wide frebox locomotive on different roads. In a tabulated review of comparative tests made on the Michigan Central between a simple mogul sind a compound consolidation the lowest was 7.94 pounds of water and the highest 8.46 pounds. This latter figure when reduced to an equivalent eva Industrial Britain has reached the parting of the ways. One of the problems which must command the attention of the people of Los Angeles at an early date is that of abating the smoke, or rather the soot, nuisance. While the number of manufacturing establishments cousuming large amounts of fuel is not great here, there are enough chimneys in operation to cause very disagreeable conditions at times. The fact that oil is used extensively for fuel instead of coal does not lessen, but competition." The fact that reporters and only six British is men responded to the call London Chamber of Comindicates that news reporters greater interest in American ition with English industries to English business men. This coount, it some degree, for the fat American competition is but surely displacing British is in British markets. The men and the manufacturers at British may affect indifferent this very palpable fact, but instead of coal does not lessen, but apparently increases, the trouble. The soot from the crude oil seems for some reason to form into larger flakes than that from coal, and the vicinity

The city is growing rapidly, and as it grows the smoke nuisance is sure to increase. It is, therefore, time now to consider measures for abating it. This problem is one which comes to every city of considerable also where much fuel is consumed, and it is one States needed from abroad was daily setting smaller in quantity, and that Great Britain was being cut out of even this small portion of the market by France and Germany. He attributed this lose on the part of Great Britain to her backwardness in using shore-even and automatic machinrious difficulty. Many inventors have exercised their ingenuity to contrive a satisfactory smoke contrive which everywhere proves one of serious difficulty. Many inventors have a satisfactory smoke-consuming device, but few, if any, have fully stained the desired purpose. Some have succeeded in devising means by which the trouble may be largely abated, especially where steam is used. With the advantage of ted up to the use of improved opportunity to profit by the experience of older cities and those of nvinced that the use of labor-saver manufacturing industries, it should be possible for Los Angeles, Great Britain can compete with America.

The report of Mr. Bell's address (by one of the sixteeen reporters) concludes as follows:

The report of Mr. Bell's address (by one of the sixteeen reporters) concludes as follows:

"Bell also said there was no doubt that reciprocity in the United States would result in the removal or reduction of many of the duties now onforced, but it would be in articles in which the United States was quite safe from foreign competition. The fact was disclosed that the Ceylon tea merchants had entered into a pooling arrangement for the purpose of promoting the sale of their brands in the United States.

"One of the few merchants present declared that American trade was completely ousting British trade from Central and South America.

"Discussing" what became of old men in America, Bell said that a man over 45 years of age had hard work to get any position there, and that this was one of the most serious factors in the future of American business life.

Jerome K. Jerome seems to have forsaken England, except as a place to visit occasionally. After a long sojourn in Germany and only a look-in on London he is off for Brussels, where he is to spend the winter. He has been at work on a long novel, which he wishes the public to take seriously. It is said that the most wonderful marksman in Washington is Señor de Assis-Brasil, the Brasilian Minister. Señor De Assis began his apprentice-ahip in shooting on his father's ranch, where as a lad he was the constant tompanion of the vaqueros and huntorn craft.

S T. VIBIANA'S CATHEDRAL was Sociality Evening.

S. T. VIBIANA'S CATHEDRAL was filled with a large congregation last night to witness the imposing ceremonies of a solemn consecration of all the socialities of the Cathedral parish to the Virgin Mary. The Cathedral was brilliantly illuminated and the altars decorated with a profusion of smilax and Le France roses and lilies. Rev. Father McDowell, C.M., of St. Vincent's College, preached the sermon to the socialities, exhorting to an exemplification of the virtues of the blessed Virgin. Next came the blessing and distribution of roses to the members, and a renewal of their vows by all the socialities. An imposing spectacle was presented in the procession of the Blessed Virgin. The cross-bearer and attendants were followed by eight members of the Young Men's Bociety, the Young Ladies' Society of the Immaculate Conception, the Holy Angels' Bodality, and the last confirmation class of the parish, the latter dressed in their white gowns and veils; and the procession moved around the cathedral as the societies sang hymns in honor of the Virgin Mary. The imposing services concluded with a solemn benediction of the blessed sacrament.

mon. They are invited to join the church and the minister rather than to surrender their lives in service to the great Master.

"Often the reason urged to look after some individual for church membership is, not that he is a poor, wayward sinner; not that he is a poor, wayward sinner; not that he is frowned upon and despised by the world, but we must look after him, because he goes in good society, because he is accomplished, because he has a splendid reputation. We must not undervalue the importance of reaching those who are living correct lives, according to the world's standards. But we need to remember that Christ, came to seek and to save souls, not full-dress suits and fancy gowns. Clothes, money, lineage are no hindrance to a man's entrance into the kingdom, neither are they much help. "My friends, neither poverty nor riches can satisfy a man nor save his soul. The great mass of people are sick and thred of the filthy rags and vain show of the fleeting world. "What do people want down deep in their hearts when they go into a house recreted and dedicated to God? Do they go there to be amused, to titter, to rected and dedicated to God? Do they go there to be amused, to titter, to gossip? Do they secretly yearn for a beautiful anthem which they can't understand? Are they there to have the scripture lesson hurried over in order that a wain man may indulge in a long prayer? Do they want a vague, indefinite. Ilterary production in which personality rather than solrituality predominates? Are they there to stumble over familiar hymns set to new-fangled tunes. No! Most emphatically no! Ask any man, sick and tired with the battle and trials of the world through but a text like this is apt to belog and mystify, rather than lead out into the clear sunshine of a radiant faith. Newspapers and periodicals, now the intellectual food, and almost the only mental food of morbid readers, they discuss questions like this, and religious problems to befog, rather than to clear the truth, and make it plain. The pulpit, too, often keeps silent, for fear of offense, and allows men to make shipwreck of their faith. No one passage of scripture is more distorted in its proper interpretation, by the enemies of 'Christianity. Would-be critics, for want of proper understanding, try to make God the author of sin, and to destroy our responsibility. When Moses said to Pharaoh, 'Let my people go,' he spoke in tenderness as a servant of the most High. The wicked King said, 'Who is Jehovah' it know not your God.' When Moses had performed his three miracles Pharaoh's magicians reproduced them in part, and thus his heart was hardened. The correct translation is, 'was made hard,' or strong.

Rev. C. J. K. Jones preached yes day morning in the Church of Unity on "Divine Revelations."

"Co. all things are thine angels, Lord, That bring my God to me.

How many messengers God hath If we had eyes to see."

"Such is the language of modern religious thought, and such the growing apprehension of all observing and reflecting nature-lovers, and that, too, without reference to any especial religious belief. It is one of the sanest features of our times that men have this sincere interest in nature—a dealer of the factures of our times that men have this sincere interest in nature—a dealer of the factures of our times that men have this sincere interest in nature—a dealer of the Talents."

The Call to the sall on her occans. We see the culmination of this blessed spirit in such men as John Muir, John Burroughs and de the followin amprehension of the Divine Being. Muir says wildness is a necessity. Mountain parks and reservations are useful not only as fountains of timbers and irrigating rivers, but as fountains of life. All nature's wildness tells the same story. Storms of every sort, torrents, earthquakes, cataclysma, convolsions of nature, however mysterious and lawless at first they may seem, are only harmonious notes in the song of creation, varied expressions of God's love. Alfred Russell Wailace has said in effect the whole universe is not merely dependent on, but actually is the will of one supreme intelligence. Nature, with man as its culminant species, is no longer a mystery. This view of nature and of man as being the embodiment of an infinite mind, includes all the phenomena of man's intellectual and moral evolution. Repentance.

Rev. J. S. Thomson, pastor of the Independent Church of Christ, in the Simpson Auditorium, preached yesterday on "Christ's Doctrine of Repentance."

"We find repentance in all departments of life," he said. "Scientists and philosophers have made great mistakes, and they have repented. Men repent in commerce, finance, agriculture, politics, reforms, international affairs, and in society. It seems to offend some people, when the Christian church preaches repentance in moral and spiritual things. Why should not the churches preach repentance? Men outside the churches are preaching repentance every day and everywhere in regard to secular affairs, and Christ, the founder and still the moral and spiritual guide of the churches, preached repentance, and He commanded His disciples to preach it everywhere. And in no age of the world was repentance so necessary as it is mediate Action-Two Men Blown Out to Sea Believed to Have Drowned.

SAN DIEGO. Dec. 8.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] Col. James McLaughlin, the Indian inspector sent out by the Department of the Interior to investigate the conditions of the Indians in this county, arrived here this afternoon after a tour with Indian Agent L. A. Wright through San Jacinto, the Colorado Desert, Temeoula, Warner's Ranch, Mesa Grande, Santa Ysabel and Capitan Grande. The colonel says that he found these tribes to be composed of a very intelligent class of Indians, but that they are very inadquately provided for in the way of lands. He will decide on the most feasible way of disposing of the question, and his report will probably form the basis of the action of Congress during the present session. He is considering especially the disposition of the Indians living on Warner's Ranch, who were disposessed of their home property by the recent action of the Supreme Court. He will recommend the purchase of property sufficient for their sustenance. From here the party will continue the tour, returning to Los Angeles by way of San Jacinto.

ANGELENO HEIGHTS.

Angeleno Heights citizens have a vigorous kick coming on account of the action of some operators of oil webs who have mistaken the street gutters for sump holes, to judge by appearances. Particularly offensive is a nasty stream which wends its way down Metcalf street, and passing the Park Congregational Church, turns down Temple street, and frequently Boylston street comes in as a close second. Citizens who are not "in oil" really don't like to be forced in it.

Douglas street has been receiving much-needed attention from the street department the past week. The deep washes have been filled and the gutters put in shape for carrying off storm water.

The citizens of Boyle Heights have an opportunity to secure the new orphanage and training school for Spanish girls by donating a site for the new building. The Home Missionary Society purposes erecting a $7000 building to start with, and to increase the school facilities from time to time as the work grows. The building will be an ornament to any section and the offer of a site by the Boyle Heights people will capture the institution. The question of a location will probably be decided during the next two weeks. Representatives of the school were here today looking over the available sites. At. St. Mary's Church, corner of Fourth and Chicago streets, the forty hours' devotion began yesterday morning. There was a solemn high mass at 10 o'clock, at which Rev. M. L. Hennessy of Santa Monica was celebrant. Rev. J. J. Clifford, S.T.L., of the Cathedral, acted as deacon, and preached the opening sermon. At the vesper service last night Rev. P. J. Fisher of Pomona was the preacher. This morning at 8 o'clock high mass will be celebrated, Rev. M. Conneally of Riverside delivering the sermon, and Tuesday morning at the high mass Rev. Fr. Hawe of Santa Monica will give the closing discourse.

For the second time in two weeks C. B. Smith's greyhound, Reward, won the first money in the thirty-two-dog open-stake run at the coursing park yesterday. He was doubtless the class dog in the stake, although several other good hounds were put out of the game in the run-down by bad luck. The big crowd present saw fine sport for the entries were high class and the hares all that could be desired as flyers, for all but five got into the escapes. It was a great day for the short-enders, less than half the winners being favorites. The dogs brought down from the north did nothing exciting, none of them reaching the second ties. the Way of Making Records for Other Bornes to Try for—Over a Fifty-foot Lot in Two Strides.

The presence in this city of Creaceus, the world's greatest trotter, and the attempt he will make next Saturday at Agricultural Park to lower his own record of 2:00%, is exciting much comment among local horsemen. Whether or not he can do the trick remains to be seen, but the conditions are apparently very favorable. The horse is in the best of condition, and as the track is being put in perfect shape, it is hoped a new record will be made.

Apropos to this subject, it may be said that when he trotted a mile at Columbus, O., last August, the horse maintained an average speed of a fraction more than forty-three feet a second. His stride is twenty-one feet and to make two complete strides to accomish the feat, which he did in the face of a strong wind in the last quarier. Under the same conditions of track and weater, and the two the same conditions of track and weater, are an interesting to all lovers of thorsefesh, for they show what scientific breeding and training has brought the modern horse to. Whether or not Cresceus lowers his record, and sperimen will now have their inst chance to see the king of trotters.

The Tuxedo Suit ... The third of a series of four articles on The Tuxedo or dinner jacket serves a very useful purpose in evening attire. It was first brought out in England by a few gentlemen who wished to have a garment suitable for informal evening lounging, which they could slip on for dinner with the family, or wear before going to an evening function. This coat, which was first known as the Cowes coat, and soon after as the Tuxedo in this country, because the Tuxedo set first seriously took it up, quickly became popular with our young swells, who tried to force it into prominence as a substitute for the evening frees coat. Men about town wore it to the opera in place of the dress coat and were reliculed for their andacity and bad taste. It has continued in popularity, however, as a proper garment for all stag rackets, and a man attired in a Tuxedo suit when visiting the theater with men, is no longer considered badly dressed. Indeeed, the suit is regarded as correct for that purpose, and also at a dinner not to be followed by a reception or a visit to the theater.

The Tuxedo suit of today differs greatly from what it was when it first made its appearance. The coat, for instance, finds expression in both single-breasted Tuxedo now has a long. BANTA ANA, Dec. 8.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The announcement that the Huntington-Hellman syndicate has absorbed the local street railway seems to have instilled new life into Santa Ana, for it is a certainty now that Santa Ana will be connected with Los Angeles by an electric line within a very short time, and that there will come the general development of the country that always follows the extensive building of railroads. For years residents of this city have felt that they were isolated to a certain extent from the more pepulated centers, and that before sants Ana would develop as rapidly as it should, there would have to be better means of transportation here as well as to and from the Southern California metropolis. There is no part of the State more productive or richer in natural resources than the land within the configes of Orange county, and when the city of Santa Ana has quick, frequent and cheap transportation with Los Angeles, so that the thousands of easterners who come there every year will have an opportunity of getting here to see what the country is like, its growth will be rapid. The new Pacific Electric Railway Company, which is backed by the Huntington-Hellman syndicate, has material on hand for the construction of 100 miles of road and the work of construction will begin as soon as the directors get the details of the matter well in hand. NEW HOME OF THE ENGLISH LUTH RIVEKSIDE, Dec. 8.—(From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The pretty new English Lutheran Church, corner of Ninth and Walnut streets, was dedicated here today with approwas dedicated here today with appropriate ceremonies, which continued throughout the day. The dedication sermon was preached in the morning by Rev. J. E. Holck. At the afternoon service, there were greetings from the pastors of the churches of other denominations in Riverside. At the evening service, the charge to the people was delivered by Rev. J. E. Holck. The charge to the pastor was made by Rev. L. J. Weaver, and the liturgleal service of dedication was made by Rev. A. J. Hartsock.

ice of dedication was made by Rev. A. J. Hartsock.

The new church is an unpretentious but artistic structure, admirably adapted to fill all the requirements of a comfortable and convenient place of worship. The main auditorium has a seating capacity of 250. The stained-glass windows are all memorial windows. The chancel turniture is arranged according to the liturgical requirements of the English Lutheran Church. The Sunday-achool-room has a seating capacity of 100. The building, including the lot, cost $5200. The church was erected under the direction of the efficient pastor, Rev. G. H. Hillerman, who was aided by the official boards of the church, made up as follows: Church council, J. B. Conrad, C. W. Castleman, D. L. Kinser, C. E. Newcomer, C. D. Reiner and A. D. Roeder; trustees, H. Eigenbrod, Sr., W. S. Frey, W. G. Kreigbaum, Charles Quast and Emil Koch.

warded in seeing the debt of $30,000 aettled in the course of little more than an hour. Bishop Cranston organized his "fire brigade" from the pulpit, choosing the stewards of the church, whom he distributed in the congregation to collect contributions. Thus the fire was put out. The balance due on the debt was raised in contributions, pledges and notes. Mrs. James Swan, who had already given $15,000, contributed $5000 more; C. M. Jacques added $3000, and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bailey $1500. These were the largest donations.

Bailey $1500. These were the largest donations.

Bishop Cranston's sermon was from the first two verses of Psalm 50, and the topic, "God Revealed Through the Church." It was an extemporaneous address, without notes, and held the bearers closely, because it consisted of live descriptions of incidents of the preacher's work and travels. The bishop's style is dramatic and he shifted his scenes quickly and skillfully, dealing with Oriental experience one minute, and telling an anecdote of some famous man the next. The different incidents of which he spoke showed how God is revealed through the church, or what a dominating institution for good the house of worship is. Nothing else than its influence and teachings could make such people as President and Mrs. McKinley, he said. The youth of today should have upheld to them an untarnished example. McKinley was such a man that even his enemies could find nothing about him to attack.

"It was my duty," said Bishop Transton."

McKinley was such as the control of the control of order that Bishop Cranton could be present. It was simply a coincidence that this date, exactly a year after the laying of the corner-stone, was chosen. The finish of the interior of the church is in keeping with its exterior. There is an immense auditorium and gallery, with a south wing to be used as the Sunday-school room, so arranged that by opening folding doors the whole may be thrown into one auditorium. The pipe organ is one of the largest in the State, having 2500 pipes, it is played by Prof. Alfred Loush of London, England, who has organized a choir of more than fifty voices.

Rev. J. M. Huston is pastor of the new church. The trustees are C. M. Parker, president; T. C. Hoag, C. A. Briggs, F. D. Stevens, C. G. Harrison and C. M. Jacques.

The Los Angeles Methodist preachers' meeting today will be held in the new Methodist Church, and will be ad-dressed by Bishop Earl Cranston.

WONDERFUL CAVE.

Party Explores a Hole in the Groun Fifty Miles East of Butte and Makes Notable Discoveries.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

DENVER. Dec. 8.—A special to the News from Butte, Mont., says that a new and wonderful natural cave, believed to be one of the largest known, has just been discovered in the cañon of the Jefferzon River on the line of the Northern Pacific Railway, about fifty miles east of Butte.

An exploration party from Butte spent several days in the cave, going over an area of ten miles and to a depth of nearly one thousand feet. A large river, with a cataract of about a hundred feet, was explored for a distance of several miles without discovering its source or outlet. A few articles of stone, copper utensils and some bones, believed to be human bones, were also found in one of the large apartments of the cave. There were other evidences that at some time in a prehistoric period, the cave was inhabited. It is believed that an earthquake closed the entrance to the cave and killéd its inhabitants.

The formation of stalactite and other natural decorations throughout the cave are most beautiful.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—[A. P. Correspondence. Wired from Chicago, Dec. 8.] The Ministry of the Interior yesterday issued another statement about the famine. Five and a half million poods of winter grain and 4.000,000 of summer grain have been purchased and forwarded to the needy districts. The total grain purchases are given as exceeding 16,000,000 poods, for which 10,000,000 roubles has been expended. The entire famine fund so far disposable is 14.213,258 roubles. The original estimates of grain to relieve the famine districts are now found to be excessive, and they have consequently been reduced in a number of cases.
